

Toilet Training

When you identify that your child is ready to “toilet train” we will do all we can to help and support them, reinforcing your approach. When your child is ready for toilet training you are asked to bring in clothes that are easy to handle, as children often leave it until the very last minute before going to the toilet. (No tight jeans, dungarees or fiddly buttons). At Toilet training time we will also need spare clothes as children frequently have accidents. Parents and key workers must work closely together to make the process a success.
